

On July 27, 1913, Scott Corbett was born. Corbett is well known for the various series of children's books that he wrote. Do you have a favorite series of books that you enjoy reading? Do you think it's important for people to read the books in a series in the order they were written? Why or why not?