

On July 4, 1776, the United States declared its independence from Great Britain. Every year we celebrate this holiday with fireworks. How do you think this tradition came to be?